

Early Career Researcher Event

UKFN early career researchers are invited to attend a meeting aimed at bringing together ECRs across multiple UKFN SIGs.

The event is intended to be an informal meeting where ECR's will have the opportunity to present their work, display a poster, or simply attend and contribute to the discussion, concluding with an social gathering in the local pub.

There is also the possibility of subsidised travel depending on number of attendees.

If you would be interested in attending this event, please send an email (with preference of poster/talk specified) by Monday 26th February 2018 to:
